

6516207446.txt

I think it would be tragic to limit the ability of XM to broadcast any information that would be helpfull to the consumer and travler simply for the single reason of limiting competition. The XM service has been truely refreshing and limiting its growth would be wrong. Let the market decide. Period.